HOMECOMING '65

This year's Homecoming was acclaimed by all as one of the best in the history of JCJC. The celebration began weeks before with the election of the Homecoming Queen and King and their court. The designing and construction of the floats lead to further anticipation of the annual pageantry of the Homecoming parade. The activities reached a peak with the winning of the football game at a packed stadium.

Below: The Queen receives her bouquet and repairs to the float. Opposite: King and Queen await launch of truck which will begin pulling their float through Ellisville and Laurel.

Queen's bouquet seems so large and heavy that holding it requires combined royal strength.

Elected by student body vote in their respective classes were Sophomore maids, Rebecca Jacks and Sylvia Flowers, and Freshman maids, Sue Wally and Martha Jane Ford.

The royal court included Danny Bean, Martha Jane Ford, Gary Kerr, Rebecca Jacks, the King and Queen, Ronnie Brewer, Sylvia Flowers, Lomai Jones, and Sue Wally.

Even royalty must not remain too sedate, as fun-loving Sylvia shows, bursting into a laugh.

At half-time Homecoming Queen is honored by her hometown, Seminary, when Mr. Martin Mooney presents a wrist watch to Bettye Jean as a compliment from family and friends.

The coronation of King James Edward Tatum and Queen Bettye Jean Aufman was preceded by an outstanding display of precision drills by the JCJC band. Tom West, Band director at Mississippi State University and former band director at JCJC for five years, conducted the combined bands of the eight-county district in the JC fight song. Then President Young welcomed everyone to the festivities and announced the selection of Dr. Benjamin Graves as the Honor Alumnus of 1965, Dr. Graves being a 1939 graduate of JCJC.

Later Freshman and Sophomore maids and their escorts came across the 50-yard line and were joined by the King and Queen. Assisting in the coronation were crown-bearers Camille Dawling and Bruce Redman of the JC band and Mr. Buelâ Bowen, Jr., Alumni Association president, who crowned the royalty.

Afterwards Mr. Martin Mooney, representing the Queen's hometown friends and her family, presented her a Bulova wrist watch. Following the coronation President Young asked the members of the class of 1940 and the Little Rose Bowl Team to move down onto the field for a musical salute by the band, which played songs reminiscent of 1940 and 1955.

Later the Bobcats climaxed the evening with a homecoming victory over East Central JC Warriors.

CEREMONY ALL DAY

Leaving field after coronation are King and Queen, Alumni president, crown-bearers, and royal court.

HARRIS HALL OPENS WITH BIG FANFARE

The new science hall is architecturally similar to the Student Center and the technical-workshop center under construction this year.

Homecoming day was the official opening date of T. H. Harris Science Building. The newly constructed edifice, named for the chairman of the Board of Trustees at JCSU, houses well equipped labs for biology, chemistry, and physics students as well as adequate classroom space.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris and Alumni President Hays were present when Homecoming queen Catherine Hays opened the new building officially.

Lt. Gov. Gartin awards Dr. Graves JCJC's highest accolade to an alumnus.

AT PREGAME BANQUET

Honored guests at the Homecoming banquet included the JCJC Jr. Rose Bowl Team of 1955 and the class of 1955, which was celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary. Also in the overflow crowd in the Student Center were the Homecoming court, faculty, administrative officers, alumni officers, friends of the college, and alumni present — as President Young remarked in his speech of welcome — from as far away as New York City. The large crowd, Mr. Young said, was indeed evidence of need for a new cafeteria where such banquets could be accommodated.

Prior to the banquet JC alumni had elected Mr. Hugh Dickens of Heidelberg president of the association for 1956 and Dr. W. W. Wally of Wagnersburg, vice-president. By acclamation Miss Elizabeth Lewis of Laurel was re-elected secretary, a post she has filled for the past three terms.

At the banquet Lt. Gov. Carroll Gartin, himself a former Alumnus of the Year, announced the choice of the 1955 Honor Alumnus, Dr. Benjamin Graves, President of Millsaps College and an outstanding Mississippian.

LEADING THE PARADE

President Young and his family roll by in a sleek sports car. Inside with him are Mrs. Young and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Langford.

A longer parade than ever including more floats than ever wound through Emmetville at two o'clock and then through Laurel at four. Smiling and waving, Mr. Young was at the front, and trailing were floats representing the clubs, classes, and departments at J.C.J.C., as well as booming and brassy bands sent here and there in the eight-county area which supports J.C.J.C. Bright sun and summer leaves added to this perfect day for the college.

Participating in the parade was pretty Peggy Nobles, Ellisville's Miss Hospitality, who is a freshman at JOC.

LOCAL BEAUTY QUEENS

Katie Tucker, Miss Ellisville, is also a freshman. Friendly Katie drew smiles and admiration from the crowd watching the parade.

Miss Ellisville and friend await the arrival of the convertible which will drive Ellisville's 1965 contestant in the Miss Mississippi contest through town.

FLOATING THROUGH TOWN

Alumni president and Mrs. Bowen participate in parade.

The JC band's color guard struts past Bass Studio in Laurel, preceeding the Bobcat band.

Little Miss Ellisville, not a JC coed yet, rode in a special convertible and represented the town of Ellisville.

Especially significant was the Queen's float, which undergoes an annual refurbishing for the parade.

"International Relations Club presents A World of Beauty and Good Will," states poster on the side of this attractive club float.

Assembling their entourage in Laurel's Gardiner Center, the Art Club had a king and queen of its own. Above are the bedraggled king, two of his subjects in rights which look suspiciously like BVD's, and the royal henchwoman who's on ace with the ax.

ART CLUB ROLLS ALONG AND WINS

Their subject was Alice in Wonderland, their caption "Off With Their Heads!" — the Warriors' heads, of course. The beautiful red, white, and black float, the product of a month of planning and executing, attracted the admiration of the parade judges and took first place in the club division. A spectator from New Orleans remarked that the float was as good as one in a Mardi Gras parade. The groggy-looking Queen of Hearts was Doug Stone; Alice was Art Club president, Linda Coughlin.

Grasping hand gun, Teddy Taylor shoots Freshman float full of staples. The float held up well during windy transportation to Laurel.

"Paul Ball, do you know that your name rhymes?" asks tired BSU officer Linda Ishee as she hands over several wads of plastic bag rosettes.

GETT REA

The hands go grip and the white hose go rip as nurse mounts, being careful not to shred off crepe paper the gang stayed up three nights to punch into the chicken-wire sides of the float.

Messrs. Tisdale, Coward, and Carter wander about at the last minute, sticking on signs and overseeing the necessities of the parade.

"Do you suppose it will matter if we have to paint the other side chartrouse if this anticollision orange gives out?"

ING DY

The Homecoming refreshment committee stands guard against a possible Warrior attack as they prepare for the evening's refreshments.

"And this little bug went to town" could easily have been the case for the Philomathesian Club's contribution to the parade as it paraded through Laurel. The chauffeur was Bo Almond, with the co-pilot being Janis Bucklew. The very well decorated Mustang player was Linda Frazier, whose position on the team is unknown.

With the price of Playboy going up, only a football player with a scholarship can afford one. Linda Ishee and Glynda Stringer give the playboy Bobcat some inspiration on Student NEA's floor.

Alan Priester picks out Chopsticks to entertain bystanders before the parade began.

"Cheerful (hiccup)," toast the suntanned, windblown coeds from Main dormitory. At right last year's Homecoming King and Homecoming Queen (in rollers) view the parade.

"To victory we shall go!" is on Johnny's mind, but the two Anna's thoughts are of the BSU victory party after the Bobcats win over East Central's Warriors.

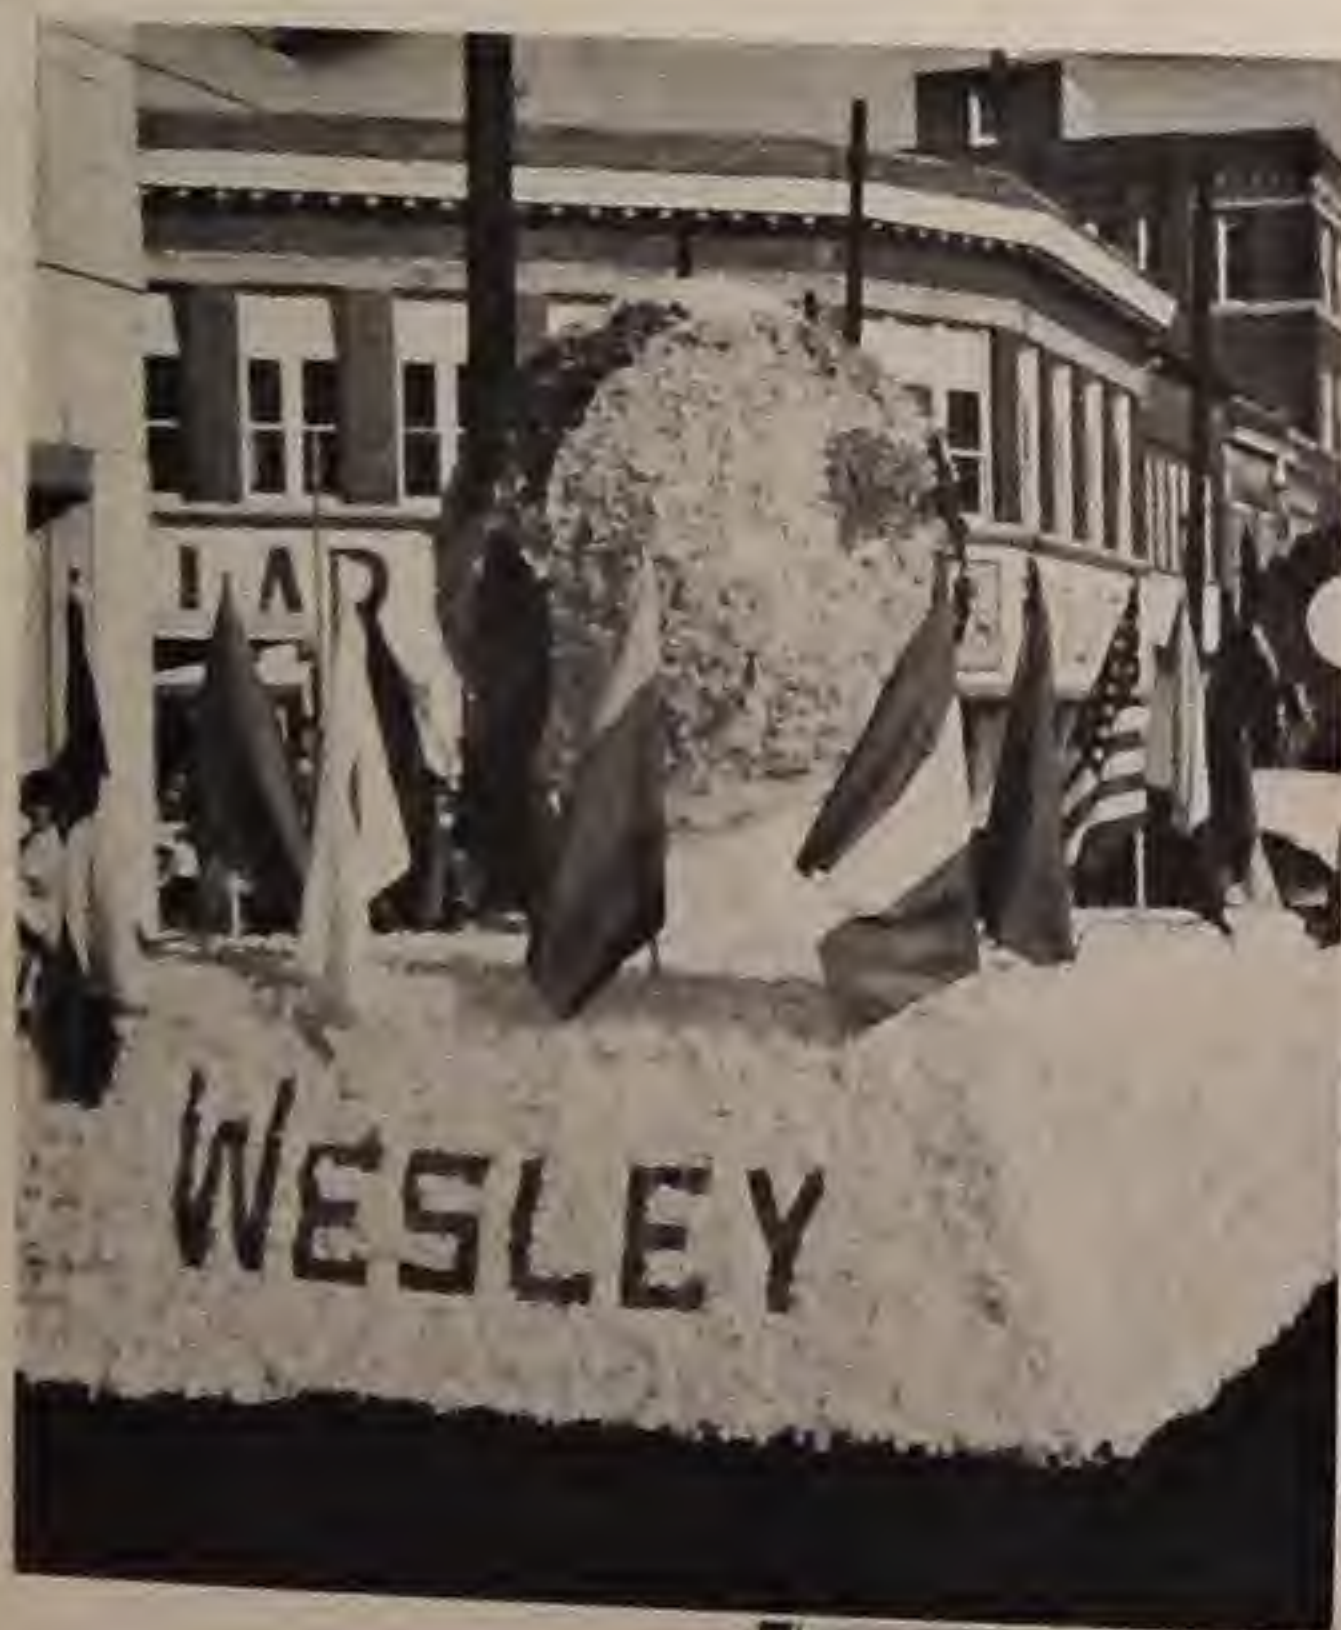

Ready, aim .."Oh!" The mighty Bobcat cries as the Methodist Nurses Club boosts the player to victory. The shots gave Bobcats the vitality they needed to defeat the Warriors.

Viewing the future the members of the Tec-Voc Club state that it takes team work to win. Design, manufacturing, assembling, and controlling played an important part in the victory over East Central.

Winning first place in the religious organization category, Wesley well represents its theme "Peace Through Understanding" with replica of world and flags of prominent nations.

Lord Fauntleroy and Little Bo Peep smile at the crowd as fellow story book characters toss pennies from the wishing well, all hoping for a Bobcat victory.

Home Economics Club demonstrates its washing ability as "Warrior's Lava Run Out" as Bobcats "Die Rally In."

As Warrior slowly sinks into oblivion, Bobcat, the conquering hero, flexes his mighty muscles leading Freshmen float to victory.

At the delight of Bobcat fans, Methodist nurses deliver Vic-Toy-Ree prophesying the results of the night's battle.

STUDENT COUNCIL

W. C. Thomas, faculty sponsor of Student Council, ably leads the representatives in their planning of elections and other pressing issues of student government.

MARCHES FORWARD

The Student Council is a group of students elected by the student body to represent them in matters concerning student welfare. The Student Council chose for its main objective this year the sponsorship of projects which would help improve environmental conditions for the students. President, Vice-President, and Secretary-Treasurer are elected by the student body. The class representatives are elected by their respective classes. The club representatives are elected by the presidents of the various clubs. The class presidents and religious group representatives are standing members.

Being the tie between students and faculty places a great responsibility upon the council members and causes them to be conscientious when they are considering student interests. Besides the regular activities, including sponsorship of school dances, improvement of traffic and parking conditions, and organization of school elections, sponsorship of the annual beauty pageant was added this year to their list of projects.

Left to right: Barbara Siebels, representative of religious groups; Sammy Loper, representative of clubs; Harley Hardestie, Sophomore representative; Mike Ellzey, Freshman representative; Carolyn Owens, Secretary; Ed Bingham, President; Joe Taylor, Vice-President; Becky Jacks, representatives of clubs; Wyatt Collins, Sophomore class President; Katy Tucker, Freshman representative; Johnnie Moss, Sophomore representative.

Serving as president, Ed Bingham carries the burden of presiding and of presenting Council's decisions and plans to student body.

Betty, Harley, and Latrelle check to make sure that all the materials are ready for use before the flow of student voters arrives.

Student prepares to mark his choice for favorites. Another vote—but for whom?

Coral Lane casts her ballot for Mr. and Miss JCJC. A bystander seems curious to see whether his choices were also those of other voters.

STUDENTS CAST BALLOTS

An important part of student life is the democratic process of electing campus VIP's. Throughout the year the Student Council conducts elections for the favorites, Mr. and Miss JCJC, the beauty candidates, and the following year's student government officials.

As day progresses, the influx of students increases, making the workers concentrate more closely on their duties.

Weary election officials look on as Jackie Turner casts his ballot near the end of the election day.

'65 - '66 BOBCAT MARCHING BAND

Band composed of Color Guard, drum major, majorettes, and instrument section as they appear at Bush-Young Stadium.

The Color Guard, innovated this season, helped the band to display its precision in parades and on football games. Here the flags billow while the team is lined up on field. Members are Sandra Faggert, Phyllis Burt, Mary Ann Kersh, Faye McIlwain, Ann Johnson, Martha Reid, Janice Myrick, Nell Shelby.

MAJORETTES AND BAND

High-stepping Jones majorettes sit down for a rest.

OFFICERS

"It gets better every year," an often-said remark about Director John Lawson's marching band of fifty-five, was indeed true this year. Energetic and willing, the marchers added pleasure and precision to half-time at '65 football games and to parades. The big sounds wafting over the campus from the stadium became familiar during third period, and from Harris Hall many could see the band members hard at drill.

The Lair commends this JCJC institution which gains only the best of superlatives for the college.

RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATION SPIRITUAL

Noon-day, the hub of spiritual activity, gives students the opportunity to use their talents for God. Directing, speaking, and singing are furnished by and for students each day.

Program planning is just one phase of the work that Mrs. Walton is responsible for. Obtaining special speakers for Wesley meetings is a task she accepts willingly.

Hurrying, talking, writing, helping, advising, planning -- all of these characterize the B9J director, Miss Custer.

TIONS PROVIDE FOR GROWTH

Provided to help meet the students' needs, Baptist Student Union and Wesley Foundation strengthen individuals in their Christian living and give them a chance to participate in the religious life on campus. Noon-day and Vespers allow the students opportunities to stand for Christ. Offering the opportunity for debates, films, discussions, outside speakers, recreation, and refreshments, Monday nights are set aside for religious groups to meet. Traveling to conferences and conventions are often highlights in the students' religious growth.

First Grade Party challenges students' intellect as they attempt to complete their writing class assignment. Although diligently working, pupils find the questions too complicated for their young minds.

Buddy: "Drop the ring, and don't worry, I'll make sure it goes on."

Beverly: "Oh no you won't! I caught you cheating - and of all places at a Noon-day party! Wait 'til I tell Mrs. Walton."

"... Where, oh where, has my Beverly gone? Where, oh where, can she be?"

At dress rehearsal, cast of "Amahl and the Night Visitors" sing their best so that next night's performance will be a success. Left to right are Mrs. Linda Valentine of chorus, Marion Leggett as Amahl's Mother, Donna Cooley as Amahl, and Timothy Byrd as a wise man.

ART AND MUSIC PROMOTE CULTURE

Miss Susan Hill, Editor
THE LIAR
Jones County Junior College
Ellisville, Mississippi

Dear Miss Hill,

Thank you very much for your letter, and the photographs of the lovely young ladies competing in your beauty contest.

The choice was an especially difficult one to make as all possess individual qualities of attractiveness. However, as you requested, I have numbered the pictures in the order of my final choice.

My congratulations to all who participated and my very best wishes for a successful yearbook.

Sincerely,

George Maharis

Mr. Caution of the horology department inspects the labors of a student working with intricate parts of watch.

Expanded Program

An ambitious student learns how to test a distributor on one of the various machines offered in the automotive technical course.

To expand its area of vocational studies, JCJC has constructed a new building which will be available next year. M. P. Carter supervises the expansive program, which includes studies in horology, electronics, automotive engineering, machine training, and other courses which contribute to vocational-Technical training.

Byron Zielinski and Joe Stewart of electronics class inspect Oscilloscope, which shows voltage and current wave forms.

Standing in front of a display board, a group in electronics class checks the percentage of modulation on the transmitter.

of Vocational And Technical Studies

Students in machine shop adjust chuck on department's turning lathe.

The year at '65-'66 brought many new changes and new growth upon the JCJC campus. Work is being completed on the Vac-Tech building, and plans are that it may be in use next year.

Miss Lewis helps student, Laura Hawkins, over a difficult passage by helping her analyze the troublesome chord.

Art and music students thrive under the capable leadership of their instructors. Challenging fine arts majors, teachers plan excellent courses of study. Every year art students enter several art exhibitions and often take top prizes. The band supports the football team during half-time activities, and the stage band provides entertainment for assembly and special programs. Also in the music department voice and piano majors display their talents in the operas given each year. Hard work pays off, and practice makes perfect.

Mr. Valentine and Marion Leggett try to arrange practice periods around other music classes.

FINE ARTS THRIVE UNDER

The band works hard to present the student body an enjoyable assembly concert.

TRAINING.

Art student paints a design using black tempera and two colors. Coffee cans and jelly glasses become important utensils in art classes, as this student's equipment shows.

Barry, Alvin, and Eddy, three members of the Bobcat Band's "kitchen section," prepare diligently for the band's annual tour.

Students in basic design class learn to cope with simple problems which prepare them for advanced classes.

LIBRARY AMPLE

With the completion of the Memorial Library building in 1962, JCJC doubled the amount of space for books and periodicals. A private listening room and a small conference room aid students in literature and music. Memorial Library is staffed by a very competent head librarian, Miss Mattie Mae Viverette, and two assistants, Miss Ann Ashley and Mrs. Sim Cooley. Jobs are also provided for students in order to give them financial aid.

Second quarter 101 students compile and write research papers which show their proficiency in composition and in library techniques. Memorial Library is crowded with researchers.

LANGUAGE LAB BOOSTS FOR

Mr. R. P. Webb heads the modern language department. Elementary and Intermediate French and Spanish courses are taught, giving students a generous background of the grammar and literature of France, Spain, and South America. Laboratory facilities, which may be used by students any time during the day, enable them to gain a usable knowledge of their major linguistic interest.

Mr. Webb looks surprised as photographer catches him examining his stamp collection instead of preparing for the next class.

PROVIDES SPACE

The Library provides adequate and ample study area for students interested in preparing for the day's work.

EIGN STUDY

This Spanish student maintains complete concentration as he listens to tapes to improve his ability to speak Spanish.

"Oui, Monsieur Webb, la plume de ma tante est sur le bureau de mon oncle."

In faculty lounge, group of teachers makes adjustments on 101 syllabus before submitting it to typist.

Delivering speech in straightforward manner, Rick Sumrall captures attention of fellow classmates and, hopefully, a good grade from Mr. Bateman.

ENGLISH AND KEEP STUDENTS

Mrs. Richardson ponders a student's question about "Sir Gawain and the Green Knight."

Well versed in literature, composition, grammar, rhetoric, and principles of speech, the English and the Speech Departments are composed of eight well qualified teachers. English students receive much practice in the art of writing, especially three-point enumeration themes. Speech courses are designed to help the student better express himself and to give him experience in research. Freshmen and Sophomore classes have excellent opportunities to gain knowledge of the basic English and Speech arts at JCJC.

"Oh, these research papers! Just one more reference book and I will be through--No, I'll be ready to begin organizing my material."

SPEECH AT WORK

Themes all but exhaust entering freshmen in English classes. This group drains themselves of almost all their inspiration as they write.

Mrs. Shows walks out of classroom to enjoy a respite from grading research papers.

HOME EC DEPAR COURTEOU

Faculty and friends call at lounge of main women's dormitory.

Miss Thomas, head of department of home economics, welcomes guests, with other members of receiving line assisting—Marsha Landrum, Mrs. J. B. Young, and Mrs. Grafton, dean of women.

Annually the department's Christmas tea makes the season festive. With their best foot forward and their displays of original Christmas centerpieces shining, the young women in home economics reveal their refinement and achievements. JCJC's accomplished homemakers show what they have gained from the department's excellent courses of study.

A rigid twenty one months' course in nursing prepares students in the department of nursing for an associate degree. The curriculum for nursing students, capably supervised by Mrs. McRae, includes academic classwork as well as field training in Laurel hospitals. JCJC's first graduates in nursing completed their courses in 1966.

Nurses' training prepares students for Associate degree.

Administering to "Mrs. Payne," students get practice before bathing or bandaging human patients.

"Not a bad job girls, it just takes a little nerve. Remember not to get upset when you hear the fetal heart beat."

Calling upon maternal instincts is not enough, a nurse must be trained in correct care of new-born babies.

Nurses learn to swab and dress a baby properly before letting his mother see him for the first time. Of course, student nurses practice on dolls and dummies to perfect gentle hand of professional nursing care.

COMMERCE TO

Although the main gripe about shorthand is that one has to write each word three full lines, this practice helps students to improve their speed and accuracy.

The curriculum in the Department of Business Training includes shorthand, secretarial training, typewriting, IBM, office machines, filing, accounting, commercial law, business communication, and business. Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Holley, Mrs. Elmore, Miss Hayes.

Accounting students have to take their work seriously, for every error has to be corrected.

Studying Business Administration forces Warren Ratcliff to apply his mind to the problems presented by his text. He seems to be bewildered about today's explanation.

DEPARTMENT IS DRAWER

Mr. Upchurch, and Mrs. Coward teach these courses, which are designed for students planning to attend four years of college. Students interested in a business career will gain valuable working knowledge of the business and business administration fields.

"What! Surely after an entire quarter of accounting, you know that a debit is posted to the left side of an account!"

Using carbons helps to make students accurate in their typing, but it sometimes takes a great amount of time to achieve this desired accuracy.

"Oh no, Susan! This makes the third time in two weeks that we've had to take the verifier apart to find four tiny starwheels ripped from their holder. Someone bring Susan the tweezers."

Miss Hayes seems pleased as she finally finds one neatly copied short-hand lesson. Hard work usually pays off.

"I wish Miss Hayes would give us just one production test without asking us to type two carbon copies of each letter. She knows I erase slowly."

The IBM Card Punch allows students to learn the fundamentals of punching information into cards with speed and accuracy.

I have to read these manuscripts letter by letter, instead of word by word, no matter how hard I try. I hope Mrs. Coward doesn't put us on the honor system.

The Intensive Business course gives students the chance to complete all work necessary to become a competent secretary, stenographer, or file clerk. While taking the business course, the student may advance his knowledge of other subjects and other interests.

A FULL BUSINESS CURRICULUM AT JC

Sue apprehensively strikes the last keys, hoping that she has not made an error and that the totals will be correct.

Mrs. Thomas stands outside the library building patiently explaining to a student the need for accuracy in the business field.

Anatomy students bone up on organs of body before having to take a practical.

NEW SCIENCE

Physics students spend their time solving problems Professor E. W. Young presents to them. These students of today will be the physicists of tomorrow.

During distillation experiment Jimmy closely observes his copper sulfate, making certain temperature does not increase rapidly in generator.

A new building and modern equipment have made JC's science program second to no junior college science program in Mississippi. A full curriculum provides studies for future chemists, doctors, physicists, pharmacists, and teachers.

DEFENDING STATE

Line Coach, Leonard Williams, explains self-defense and perfect blocking so that plays will run smooth.

Managers Lynn Moore, Barry Wedgeworth, and Bubba McLain (not pictured) stood behind Bobcats as they finished a 7-3 record.

CHAMPS GO INTO ACTION

After a slow start, the defending state champs ended their season with five straight wins to cap a 6-3 record, thus enabling them to capture third place in the state.

Battling the inspired Holmes Bulldogs in the season opener the Bobcats were upset 20-7. The Jones six-pointer came on an 87-yard touchdown pass play from Larry Suchy to Morris Mason. Ronnie Walker kicked the extra point.

Tangling with the Pearl River Wildcats, the Bobcats were defeated 8-6 in the annual Laurel Lions' Bowl Classic. Jones only TD came in the 2nd quarter on a spectacular catch by Louie Bond from Suchy. Pearl River scored in the final minute to annex the win.

After the set back at the hands of Pearl River Wildcats, the mighty Bobcats took their fury out on the Itawamba Indians 20-7. Bobcat scores were made by Suchy, on a 5-yard run, Jim Sellers, 3-yard smash and Jerry Wayne Thomas, 68-yard punt return. Walker converted twice.

In a game at Northwest, the Bobcats were bested 14-7 by the eventual state champs, the Rangers. Jones score came on a 90-yard Suchy to Sorey aerial combination. Walker kicked extra point.

Invading Southwest, the Bobcats came home with a hard-fought 22-20 victory. Billy Watts chalked up a first quarter touchdown, and added another in the final period to lead the 'Cats. Mason got the other Jones score in the final quarter on a 8-yard run. Walker kicked extra point and 25-yard field goal. This was the Bobcats' second win of the season, and the winning streak had begun.

A band of East Central Warriors attacked the Bobcats in hopes of spoiling Jones Homecoming celebration and to make a strong bid for state title, but the Bobcats stood strong and repelled the spoilers 10-6.

Suchy scored the Jones touchdown 4th quarter on a short run. Ronnie Walker kicked the extra point.

The winning streak continued as the Co-Lin Wolves fell to the unbeatable Bobcats, 20-6. Suchy threw 20 yards to Mason for the first Jones score and later was on the receiving end of another Suchy pass good for a 81-yard Bobcat score. Suchy scored the final TD. Walker added the 2 extra points.

In the final home game of the 1965 season the Bobcats rolled over supposedly strong Hinds 41-12. Suchy put Jones ahead on a short run. Harry Sullivan plunged 1 yard for the second Bobcat TD. Jim Sellers added another first quarter score. Sherrill Shows ran 75 yards with an intercepted pass to end the scoring in the first half. In the final quarter Suchy threw to Louie Bond for another Bobcat score. Jones made the last TD for the final score. Ronnie Walker converted five times.

Throwing up a tremendous defense, the Bobcats capped their season with an 8-6 triumph over the tough Perkinson Bulldogs. Jim Sellers blasted over from ten yards out for the Bobcat TD. The extra point came on a pass from Suchy to Robert Sorey. This victory gave the Bobcats their fifth straight win and a season with a 6-3 record.

Fleming foils Warrior's attempt as Howard moves in.

James Riley warms up for seasonal opener as he sprints down the stretch.

TRACK TEAM BOBCAT

AM SHOWS POWER

Lynn White and "Knotty" Bond clear the hurdles with fine form as track season begins.

Latrelle Windham clears the bar in practice as he prepares for the meet.

Chris Marlette leaps broad jump to get in shape for opening of season.

TENNIS TEAM SHAPES UP FOR

Front: Gus Mally, Bill McAllister, Steve Parker, Linda Nichols
Back: Kenny Almon, Barbara Bassett, Charles Pierce, Susan Hill, Thomas Mason, Peggy Prince, John Bethea, Jean Goff, Mr. Carter.

Linda Nichols warms up in practice as she tries to make the team.

Judy Jordan
lets out a yell in Bobcat
tennis tryouts.

BIG SEASON

Thomas Mason and Steve Parker discuss the techniques of playing doubles.

Jean Goff uses speed as a means of having time to place the ball.

Steve Parker displays his form in practice as he hits the ball back across the net.

Bill McAllister slams a hot one in warm ups.

SWIMMING AT JCJC

Butterfly and freestyle swimmers: Mike Green, Artis James, Don Pickering, Thomas Mason

Competitive swimming on the college level took place in Mississippi for the first time in 1965. JCJC placed second at the state meet held at University of Southern Mississippi, and the college holds nine of the ten 25-yard pool records.

... and, Santa, even though I am supposed to be writing a theme right now for Mr. Cole, please don't think that I've been a bad girl all year, for I am doing well in English.

... and if you can spare a couple of ping pong paddles, I'd appreciate them, too. Of course, if there isn't room on the sleigh -

over a dozen sets of very special people

Slurp, glug, sip, crunch, plink, clank, crash, SPPLlan, rink, clatter, splatter — familiar sounds greet the student when he marches into the cafeteria with his meal ticket.

Above: To stay calm before the moment of trauma, a beauty contestant may say anything.

"... and we'll call ourselves the Anti-Audubon Society."

Art class holds its meetings sometimes 'way out in the sticks so that students can be close to nature.

Beaming, Miss JCJC walks backstage holding her dozen roses presented to her when Wyatt Collins announced she had been elected.

A FEW OF OUR ACTIVITIES

"And now, students, Mr. Ogletree has a few important announcements."

"23 left, 8 right, 7 left, and I'll have my spray net."

Pretty girls at JCJC always find time to excel in sports as well as in writing research papers.

JCJC HAS FOR EVE

Beautiful coed writes out code message to 007 in case he is in the audience.

The office force trek wearily to lunch at 12:00 after an exhausting morning of making change, type-writing, balancing accounts, and making explanations to students.

Some JCJC students go out on a limb with their studies, and if it doesn't break, they saw it off.

Coming by for a conference, an anxious student may be offered a comfortable seat before the instructor makes his remarks.

A SPOT RYONE

Nibbling fingernail, a student, who sports Panama City sweater as he enjoys the sunshine on the portico, engages in some pleasant February conversation.

Beautiful coed writes out code message for Napoleon Solo or for Ilya in case either is in the audience.

Right: Nancy watched her step, as all beauty contestants did, fearing they might stumble while getting on stage. In spite of everyone's headache: two huge permanent piano cases (unfortunately in everybody's way at any production on stage), the twenty girls presented themselves in a smooth performance.

Friends sent flowers. For Katie Tucker, it was a white orchid -- which Katie told everyone the next day she was wearing to classes because she had nowhere else to go.

Three instructors drop eyelids or look casually away when certain students trot up during registration.

He left a basket for somebody next door, too.

He did?
Where?

Somebody wants to see what the Easter bunny brought you.

PLAYING ROOK, TENNIS,

Some students remain on campus during the week and eat.

Despite their innocent conversation, these men are engaged in a heated game of Rook.

The next day, the game begins to grow with a J.C.

THE PIANO, GAMES...

Music Hall, delight, bustling with activity, is that it is a place for devoted students to rehearse.

A good quarterback, however, can't be a pro.

The 20th February 1959 last week to 1
 students that used the tool often.

...HARD AT WORK, ENGROSSED

20th February 1959 last week to 1
 students that used the tool often.

Students enjoying tasty lunches of lettuce salad, chicken, bread, rice, and potatoes.

Indignity is the key-word for freshmen throughout when Selective Service knocks.

For a moment the 100 may seem almost a joke and his laughter comes.

SEE WHO THAT
 DOOR,
 TOM!

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS.

IN THOUGHT

His eyes were staring at the front of the wall of stone.

DEAR ME! I HOPE THEY DIDN'T
 LOSE A BABY BEFORE COMING
 HERE!...IF THAT WERE TRUE,
 MY REMARKS WERE VERY TACTLESS!

SHE... CALLED ME AN UGLY OLD
 CREEP, MR. ROPER!... AND TAUNTED
 ME... ABOUT HOW SHE AND HER SWEET-
 HEART HAD... MADE A SAP OF ME!

THOMAS H. HARRIS
 SCIENCE BUILDING

I'VE HAD ABOUT
ALL THE CONFUSION
I CAN STAND FOR ONE DAY!

Right: One of JCIC's many thoughtful men spots his man at intramural game and calls out his greeting.

Left: After a hard morning of tests, coed refuses to take any fresh remarks from interested boy.

...ALL ARE A PART

THEY CHANGED
THE RECORDS
IN THE JUNE
BOX TODAY

KEEP THE
OLD FEET
STILL!

With all the new dance steps becoming so popular, coeds have to keep in shape.

Right: Instructor and coed arranged in artistic composition, which proves JCIC's excellent faculty-student cooperation.

WHAT DID FATHER
GIVE YOU FOR YOUR BIRTHDAY, MOTHER?

WHY DON'T YOU
GO TO WORK

Above: Administrator Wright looks after one of the students typist glances up from below.

OF...

Well! I see the bunny came all right!

CAMERAS
DON'T LIE!!

Below: Camera of the camera and camera camera.

There's always the opportunity to ask a friend about a blind date.

When female faculty member passes, students give courteous remark.

... THE

Excess artists sometimes show a strange reaction to students at the bleachers.
